Please look up and read all verses in their entirety. I have only written partial verses.

Make your own notes, write down other scriptures that you run across while studying, write down questions that you may have or comments as well. Below please find my sharable thoughts, so please allow the Holy Spirit to reveal to you that he would have you to see through the study of God's word to share.

Excitement in Living for Christ

Philippians 1: 12, 18, 21, 25

For you and me as believers, life on this earth means living for God, for it is very important that we live our lives so that we might spread the gospel of the saving grace of Jesus Christ. Therefore, we are to remain faithful unto God, so that everything that we try to be, everything that we are, and everything that we look forward to is meant to point others to Christ. Every move that we make should be to proclaim the gospel of truth, which is Christ and him crucified.

1 Corinthians 2: 2,....I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified....

We are to present the truth of the gospel as simply as we can so that people might base their faith on the power of God and not on the wisdom of man. Those who do not have the spirit of God dwelling within them are limited in their observation of the gospel due to worldly reasoning, and only those with Gods indwelling Holy Spirit can understand the truths revealed unto us by God through his word.

Philippians 3: 7,....but what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ....

We must be willing to give up everything that prevents us from serving Christ. Therefore, he must be our focus, our goal, our greatest desire. He is to be the center of our mind, our heart, our body and soul, and our spirit. Everything that we do we do all for the glory of God.

1 Corinthians 10: 31,....whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God....

Now, isn't it exciting, that as believers, we have the ability to live with the mindful, loving intention to glorify God in all aspects of our life. This not only promotes unity within the body of Christ, but it shows godly purpose and character in all that we say and all that we do. Therefore, it promotes within us gratitude and thanksgiving for all that we receive from God. This in turn allows us to see all of life's activities, situations, and circumstances as an opportunity to glorify him. Living for Christ means making choices that are motivated by his love, and reflects the glory of God, which encourages and builds up others in the spirit of the Lord.

Philippians 1: 12 – 20,....I would ye should understand....the things which happened unto me....unto the furtherance of the gospel....

As believers, we are to motivate and encourage one another so that we may faithfully serve Christ, for it is easy to become discouraged when life's difficulties are upon us. We must learn to look past our personal situations and circumstances, so that we may see the opportunities that God brings through our sufferings, and so that we can participate in the progress of the gospel of Christ. Every circumstance in our life should be measured according to the impact that it has on our ability to further the gospel of Christ, which means telling others about Christ and his saving grace.

2 Timothy 3: 14 – 15,....continue then in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them....and that from a child thou hast known the Holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus....

We as believers are motivated through many examples to increase the efforts of our ministry. Believers are motivated to boldly preach Christ truthfully or sincerely, ministering the gospel of Christ out of goodwill, choosing to focus on the truth of God's word, always looking toward the positive aspects of every situation, not willing to feel obligated to defend the interpretation of the truth of God's word, which allows us to get the truth about Christ out to those who are willing to hear. Therefore, we rejoice whenever Christ is proclaimed, and by doing so people respond in a positive manner.

Philippians 1: 18,....whether in pretense, or in truth, Christ is preached....and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice....

As believers, we must always rejoice in our circumstances, because God is in every situation of our life, which ensures us that the gospel is always continuing to be spread throughout the whole world. We must pray that whatever the motive other believers may have when sharing the gospel of Christ, whether it is in pretense or in truth, that the saving grace of Jesus Christ is being proclaimed. The goal of our life is that God will be glorified through his Son, Christ Jesus.

Philippians 1: 21,....for to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain....

When we place our confidence in Christ, it is then that we will place every situation and circumstance in our life in God's hands. We are to be so focused on our committed relationship to God that we are living completely committed to Christ. Therefore, as believers, we need prayer in our life, we need the truth of God's word in our life through study and meditation, we need fellowship and unity within the body of Christ, and we need all of these things, not only to establish us in our life in Christ, but to sustain us in our life in Christ. This is why it is very important to know God's purpose and plan for our life, so that we might grow in faith, and mature spiritually, so that we may continue to encourage other believers, and so that we might be an effective witness to those who are without Christ. Let us always remember that the benefit of serving God faithfully is far greater than the sacrifice.

Philippians 1: 25,....having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith....

Our desire should be to lift up Christ in every area of our life, and to see the good work which Christ has started in the life of every believer, works that will bring us into our maturity in him, so that it might be completed in the day of Christ, not only for our eternal benefit, but for God's greater glory.

Philippians 1: 6,....being confident of this one thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ....

Our purpose, as believers, is to live for the glory of God, and to preach the word of truth to all who will hear and believe. We begin to understand our salvation and find peace of mind, when we begin to realize that whether we live or whether we die we are in Christ and Christ is within us. Both scenarios have great advantages for us in our life. A life with a passion for Christ is a life of victory, no matter what the situation or the circumstance, therefore, we discover that a life lived for God becomes a life of contentment in the Lord.

Philippians 4: 11,....not that I speak in respect of want, for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content....

The joy and contentment of our life in Christ is to see others grow in faith, and grow in spiritual maturity, and to experience the blessings of knowing and serving Christ. Living to please Christ means not doing anything that would cause us to be ashamed while in the presence of God, which as believers, we are always in the presence of God. Living for Christ will always cost us something, but no matter what the cost, Christ should be first and foremost in our life. Only when we show forth our commitment to God, and to others, will we be able to truly say that we are living to glorify God by living for his Son, Christ Jesus.

Let us Pray.
